FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASEWindermere Welcomes Faith Messenger

Palm Desert (Calif.) – May 5, 2012 – Windermere proudly welcomes Faith Messenger to its Palm Desert Portola office at 73993 Highway 111. Messenger, with over 20 years in Southern California real estate sales, brings to Windermere a wide range of skills built upon her earlier career in bank and mortgage management. As a Wells Fargo Vice President, Messenger gained considerable insight into the finance side of the Southern California real estate market, which she skillfully brings to her Coachella Valley real estate clients. Appreciating the value of her diverse knowledge and experience, Messenger's clients include buyers and sellers in every facet of the market from undeveloped land to celebrity estates, and her full service approach embraces commercial as well as residential sales. Drawn to real estate for the satisfaction of guiding buyers into their next home or investment, she realized along the way her great talent for negotiating and navigating through the business end of the real estate process. "I'm pretty straightforward," says Messenger. "Clients like that I'm direct, and they rely on me to give them all the information they need. Buying or selling a home or other property involves making decisions that carry serious financial and personal consequences. In today's complex market, clients appreciate my insight and depth of experience." Messenger is enthusiastic about her new Windermere family, and Windermere shares that enthusiasm. "We met Faith nearly 10 years ago," says Bob Deville, co-owner, Windermere Real Estate Southern California. "We've been looking forward to the time when we would work together. With her understanding of the market and her exceptional reputation for outstanding customer service, she's a great match with Windermere, and we're thrilled that she's here." In addition to working hard for her clients, Messenger also supports Big Brothers Big Sisters. And what's her motto? "Messenger Delivers."
