CORINNE ZAJAC BRINGS CANADA TO WINDERMERE

RANCHO MIRAGE (Calif.) – May 14, 2011 – Windermere welcomes Corinne Zajac to its office at The Club at Morningside.

A native Canadian, Corinne's career has always combined two of her life's great passions: real estate and golf. She has toured overseas in competitive golf, and has worked for many of the golf world's top developers. Her familiarity with our desert communities for high-end second homes makes her a favorite with fellow Canadians. "I can find the vacation home for you, whether your dream is an upscale weekend condo getaway or a classic mid-century showcase," she says. "When it comes to what makes the desert so desirable, I get it. I've made Rancho Mirage my second home since 1974."

Corinne is a natural 'connector', one of those who seemingly knows everyone-- and this characteristic makes her a natural in the social and customer service aspects of real estate. Her experience also includes managing a country club membership sales office.

"There has never been a better time for Canadians to shop for property here in the desert," says Bob Deville, co-owner, Windermere Southern California. "Corinne brings to Windermere the perfect blending of both worlds: knowledge of desert real estate, and a understanding of what many of our Canadian friends and clients are looking for."
