Windermere Real Estate Southern California is elated to make this announcement regarding their growing community of real estate professionals. Sandy Beakey is the Managing Broker, and is very pleased to be part of Windermere's expansion. The opening of this niche specific office is indicative of the growing luxury market in La Quinta, and represents Windermere's dedication to offering their luxury buyers and sellers so many more options than any other local competitors in the region. Windermere has consistently produced industry-defying statistics in each of its major geographic markets including the Coachella Valley, Orange County, and San Diego, and is recognized as an industry leader in regard to agent sales volume.

Among the agents populating the new office are Janine Stevens & Craig Conley who both have a long history of servicing luxury buyers in the Coachella Valley. The current La Quinta Main Office located just across the parking lot has a proud history of supporting local and civic events that both support and nurture the community in which they work, live and play.
